

Installing the Rocket Librarian Software

Note: LINK libraries will need to contact the help desk for installation of software to LINK machines.

1. Download the Rocket Librarian software from:

<http://www.rocket-ebook.com/Readers/Software/index.html>

2. From your "Start" menu, choose "Setting" and then choose "Control Panel."
3. Choose "Add/Remove Programs."
4. The next few steps vary depend on if you are running Windows 2000 or another version of windows.

For Windows 2000:

- a. Choose "Add New Programs"
- b. Click the "CD or Floppy" button.
- c. You will be instructed to insert the floppy or CD. Just click "Next".
- d. You will be told that the installation program couldn't be found. Click the "Browse" button, browse to the folder where you downloaded the installation program, and then choose "r113_222Nuvolnst.exe." (NOTE: In order to see the .exe file, you will need to change the "Files of Type" box to "All Files".)
- e. Click "Open".
- f. Click the "Finish" button and the installation will begin.

For Windows 95/98:

- a. Click the "Install" button.
- b. You will be instructed to insert the floppy or CD. Just click "Next".
- c. You will be told that the installation program couldn't be found. Click the "Browse" button, browse to the folder where you downloaded the installation program, and then choose "r113_222Nuvolnst.exe."
- d. Click "Open".
- e. Click the "Finish" button and the installation will begin.

5. The setup will unpackage, and a welcome screen will appear. Click the "Next" button to continue.
6. The license agreement will appear. Click the "Yes" button to continue.
7. The "Choose Destination Location" screen will appear. Accept the default location, unless you have a specific reason not to. Click the "Next" button to continue.
8. A screen will appear, asking you to verify your settings. Click "Next" to continue.
9. The program will install, and you will receive a screen telling you that the installation is complete. Click "Finish" to complete the installation.