- Grubby dashboard: I am working with Liz Amundson, Madison Public Library (MPL) Reference & Collection Librarian, on a project to re-work the SCLS "Grubby" dashboard. MPL staff use the information in the dashboard to monitor the use of AV items such as CDs, DVDs, and BluRays and calculate when specific items are due for refurbishment to remove scratches and dirt. We will potentially change the dashboard metrics to include data that more accurately reflects the impact of recent usage rather than cumulative use over the item's lifetime.
- Dane County patron mapping: I met with Rynn Kerkhove, MPL Library Planner, to discuss a path forward on the patron mapping project we began in 2022. We determined which information was most important to MPL's planning process and at what geographic levels the data should be available (such as Census tracts, Census blocks, MPL branch service areas, etc.). With this latest round of guidance from Rynn, I plan to resume work on this project which will include an update of the underlying patron data set to make it current.
- DPI Annual Reports: My focus in January was working with Tracie Miller and SCLS ILS staff on Annual Report pre-fill data processing. Now that the Annual Reports are open to libraries, my involvement has diminished to answering occasional questions. I expect this will shift as we move into the adjacent county reimbursement phase of the project.
- Database usage dashboards: Another annual project I've been working on is rolling over the database usage dashboards to prepare them for 2023 data. The SCLS Scripting and Reports Team updates these dashboards monthly to provide member libraries with the most recently available usage statistics.
- Upcoming:
 - UW-Madison Research Bazaar: I plan to attend the 4th Annual Research Bazaar, scheduled for February 22nd and 23rd at the UW-Madison Discovery Building. The title of this year's bazaar is "Information Insights: Shaping Futures with Data and Computing." I expect the sessions will provide current information on technologies and methodologies for data processing and modeling.

- Local Holds project webinars: I will be participating in two webinars related to the SCLS Local Holds pilot project currently underway. These webinars will focus on a Tableau dashboard I created to enable the exploration of multiple metrics the Local Holds Work Group decided to monitor during the pilot period. I will demonstrate the visualization controls and options available on the dashboard as well as discuss some of the conclusions I've come to based on analysis of the data collected thus far.
